

Prof. Leena Chatterjee

Prof. Leena Chatterjee completed her graduation and master's in psychology from Delhi University and her PhD in organizational psychology from I.I.T Kanpur. She joined the Indian Institute of Management Calcutta in 1984 and superannuated as a Professor in the Organizational Behaviour Area in June 2021. She taught courses on managing self, understanding people, managing interpersonal relationships and team dynamics, and leadership, at the Institute. She was presented the "Best Teacher Award" by the Institute's alumni and students over several years.

She has guided several doctoral students. Her current research interests and publications are in the areas of managing organizational diversity, and career choice and career management.

She has undertaken a large number of in-company training and consultancy assignments for public and private sector organizations as well as international aid organizations.

Currently Dr. Chatterjee is a Professor of Organizational Behaviour at BITSoM, the BITS School of Management in Mumbai, which is a new global business school launched under the aegis of BITS Pilani, an institute of national eminence recognised by the Government of India.