Project Management (Online)

September 4 - 20, 2020

Introduction

Project Management is the science and art of managing the business of an organization and the growth of a nation by translating strategy into successful action. While quite a few Indian projects have achieved outstanding performance and even set international records, Project Management in India still has tremendous scope for improvement. A study by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation estimates the cost and time overrun in projects at INR 187,524 crores (USD 30 billion). One of the reasons that India lags behind China in economic development is the absence of professional project management culture and also Certified Project Managers.

Realising the need for a relevant programme in Project Management, IIMA started offering Executive Education in Project Management in 1985 and has trained over 2350 executives in this area. The focus of the programme has been on the Implementation Phase – the key area for the success of projects. Besides retaining the focus on the implementation phase of projects, the current programme also includes one session on Project Risk Management.

Objectives

- To develop an understanding of the tools and techniques for effective management of resources and cost in projects
- To expose participants to the behavioural aspects of project management
- To provide an insight into the network-based project monitoring system
- To discuss various aspects related to contract management, project costing, budgeting and other related topics
- To acquaint participants with project uncertainty and risk management

Programme Highlights

- Overview of project management, different stages of a project and slippages in projects.
- Network Techniques: Activity, events, drawing of networks, critical path, float, methods to find critical path.
- PERT: Uncertainty, estimation of activity time, network simulation, project completion probability.
